

Antigua & Barbuda: A Cruiser's Paradise

With over 300 gorgeous beaches and an abundance of serene bays to anchor, Antigua and Barbuda are an outstanding cruising destination. Tuck yourself into any of the pristine coves, without another soul in sight, and let the surreal turquoise waters, pink-sand beaches and warm trade winds delight your senses. Explore the many inlets and shallows by kayak or dinghy, snorkel the stunning coral reefs, stroll the infinite beaches, all this and more right from your yacht. Whether you want complete seclusion or to enjoy the vibrant culture and communities ashore, these islands offer the best of both. With picturesque villages full of culture, history, and 18th century architecture, to beach bars, casinos and gourmet restaurants to enjoy. Barbuda could be described as heaven on earth, with not a single paved road, horses running free, an array of wild life, and gorgeous endless white/pink beaches. The waters are so turquoise that even passing clouds mirror a hint of blue-green. The numerous coral heads are teeming with sea-life offering outstanding diving and snorkeling for all. From mountainous topography, sculpted cliff-sides and caves, to vast beach shores, these islands offer an array of natural beauty.

Venture 40-80 miles to the south to the intriguing islands of Guadeloupe and Dominica with its fascinating French influences, charming villages and jungle surroundings. Or for the ultimate cruise in the Leeward islands, do a one-way charter to St. Martin!
